Nothingiem is in trouble. The tribes are beginning to experience the tribulations of the wicked. Humpletey Marshall utterly repudiates the Joutnul as his organ and the Journal sayshe wouldn't be the organ of Humphrey. Marshall asserts positively that the conduct of the Journal, in advising the Fillmore men of Indiana to vote for an abolitionists, finde no response in the breasts of his constituents. And the Journal says that in constituents.

Here is a beantiful kettle of fish. The Congressman and the 'organ' can't agree. The one asserts that Kentneky is not abolitionized and the other insists that nineteen-twentieths of the American party of the State sympathise with his advice to the Indiana brethren to elect an abolitionist over a sound, national, and constitutional man. Which is right, the burly Congreesman or the nutmeg editor? That is the

The Congressman has a way of doing his own thinking, and don't like to be dictated to. He stances, every department has been eminently successful. The removal of the Exhibition builddoubtless imagines that a member of the national legislature can do as much in the way of shaping the conise of a party as a political editor. The wise interfered with our arrangements; during Journal, however, much prefers to hold a full the course of a party as a political editor. The hand. He has no idea of being interfered with even by a Congressman. His followers have pampered bim up until be imagines his ipse dixit to be the law of the party. He has only to give the command that it may be obeyed-to suggest that certain wings of the party vote for certain men, or a certain set of measures, and to witness them falling into line like drilled soldiers. Indeed, we shouldn't be surprised if the editor had an eye upon Marshall's seat, for some very near and dear friend. Besides, the Jonnal has more than one editor, and it is said that paper is ambitious, just at this period of Congressional honors. Be that as it may, the redoubtable Colonel base t a cocked eye for nothing. If there be a wheel within a wheel, as we and many others | London Quarterly, and De Bow's Reviews; Sill shrewdly suspect, the Colonel will be apt to discover it.

REPRESENTATIVES AND ELECTORS IN 1860 .-The Philadelphia Bulletin estimates that the representative population in 1860, throughout the Union, will be about 31,000,000. divided as follows. Free States, 20,000,000; Slave States, 11,-000,000. The number of representatives being 234, the ratio of apportionment will be about 132,000, and the House will consist of 151 representatives from I'tee States, and $3 from Slave States. By the present apportionment, there are 144 from Free States, and 90 from Slave States. The Bulletin distributes the members as follows: Southern States, 83 New England States, 23, Middle States, (New York, New Jersey and Penn. sylvania) 58, Western States, (including Calitornia and Minnesota,) 70. In case of the admission into the Union of Kansas, Nebraska, Oregon, Utah, or a new State from part of Texoregon, Utah, or a new State from part of Texas, these figures will be somewhat modified, as each new State will have at least one new member, and the older States will lose in a corresponding to the lost of th ber, and the older States will lose in a corresponding degree. If the calculations of the Bulletin are correct, the Presidential Electors for 1860 will number 298, of whom 185 will be from Free States, and 113 from Slave States.

MISSOURI SENATORS. The session of the Lagislature now setting will have to elect two U. S. Senators. The prominent Democratic candidates are Governor Polk Mr Gever and Col Bogy (all of St. Louis) Hon. Jas. S. Green and Ex-Governor Price (both from North Missouri;) Judge Napton and Major l'helps (from the country south of the river.) Less prominent candidate at Color I lerd. Kennett, General English, Captain Hudson &c., not to enumerate any but those who have had strong support, and what may be considered practicable claims in purposes for which the Institute was founded, and will, no doubt, be of great benefit certain contingencies. It is generally admitted that if the Democratic party is united they have a sufficient majority on joint ballot to elect both their Senators against the Know Nothings and Bentonites united.

The issue seems to be fairly made up between the ditor of the Journal and our member of Congress-the former contending that "nineteen twent'eths of the American darty of Kentucky 'were earnestly desirous of the election of the Black Republican, Morton, over Willard, the national Democrat, and the latter taking the converse of this position.

Instead of emigrating to St. Louis, as report eays it is the intention of the editor to do, would it not be well that he should seek a still more northern latitude. We are sure that he wholly misapprehends the temper and feelings, even of bis own party in Kentucky.

A HANDSONE TESTINONIAL -The numerous personal and political friends of W. N. Haldeman, Esq , residing in this city, met at the Couricr office on Thursday night, at early gas lighting, for the purpose of expressing in some substantial manner, their regard for him as a gentleman, and their appreciation of the noble service performed by his paper in the recent Presidential carvass. The meeting was called to order by the appointment of Captain Swagar as Chairman, when Joseph B. Kinkead, Esq., in has recently returned from a tour of observation, behalf of the Old Line Whigs and Democrats, embracing in his route all the principal points in presented to Mr. Haldeman a magnificent and the great North-west. Mr. Haldeman returned his thanks in appropriate language, when several baskets of the best brands of champagne, catawba, etc., etc., were rifled of their contents, and the crowd commenced the usual merry making and toast making. About ten o'clock the party dispersed, well pleased with themselves and the rest of mankind.

Indigestion, servous irritability, despondency, a sense of weight in the stomech, and severe pains in the left side, rendering me, for the time being, truly wretchad. Fortunately, I was recommended by a triend to try your Elixir.
